CONCLUSION OF APRIL COURT SEVERAL CRIMINAL AND CIVIL CASES WERE TRIED.

A Number of Verdicts Reached and Last Case Tried Was Concluded This Week.

The Grand Jury concluded their work in addition to cases reported last week by finding true bills against Frank Shultz, charged on information of John Saylor with assault and battery, pointing a revolver and carrying concealed weapons, and against Mark E. Wisotzky, charged with fornication and bastardy on oath of Mary C. Smith.

The petition of citizens of Berwick borough for a change of the name of borough to Abbottstown was presented to the court and referred to the Grand Jury. The Borough of Berwick was incorporated Nov. 26, 1834. The petition for change of name was signed by two-thirds of the taxpayers of the borough and included the burgesses, the seven councilmen and other borough officials. The town is almost unanimous on the change and the reasons assigned were that the present corporate name is of disadvantage and detriment to the citizens and business. The postoffice name has for years been Abbottstown and as such it has become well known and well established and the use of the two names of Abbottstown and borough of Berwick has resulted in confusion and detriment and this confusion is increased by fact that the township of Berwick surrounds the borough and there is another Berwick in the State. The Grand Jury at the conclusion of the hearing of the matter approved the change of name and an order for that purpose was confirmed nisi, pending exceptions before the August Court.

Criminal Calendar.

Several criminal cases were tried as follows:

The case of Com. vs. James J. Watson came to an unexpected end Tuesday. The chief witness for the Commonwealth was Charles Watson and officers had failed to subpoena him. It was said he was out of the jurisdiction and it was sought to introduce in evidence the stenographer's notes taken at the hearing before the justice, but Court held the Commonwealth to the strict compliance with the law that before the notes could be used proof must be offered that officials had visited all places where witness was supposed to be with a subpoena and this proof not being satisfactory to the Court the stenographer's notes were excluded and this left the Commonwealth without any proof of the offense of statutory rape charged and the Court then directed the jury to return a verdict of not guilty.

Com. vs. alias John Doe was found guilty of being a common nuisance on the information of T. P. Turner and was sentenced to 60 days in jail, a fine of $1.00 and the costs.

Com. vs. Frank Shultz, charged on the information of John Saylor with assault and battery, pointing a revolver and carrying concealed weapon and at the conclusion of the trial the jury disposed of the case by finding the defendant not guilty and directing that the defendant pay the costs.

Com. vs. John Nugget, plead guilty to the charge of notorious indecency on information of C. H. Wilson and was sentenced to six months in jail and to pay the costs.

A number of criminal cases came to an end by being settled and not pressed, among them a number of old cases.

Com. vs. Thad. Warren a nol pross was entered.

Com. vs. G. Heagy a nol pross was entered.

Com. vs. Beulah Saylor, indicted for receiving stolen goods on information of Mervin Van Dyke, nol pross entered.

Com. vs. George Jackson, surety of the peace on information of Chas. H. Powell, a nol pross was entered and defendant discharged.

Com. vs. Harry E. Wampler, charged with desertion and non-maintenance by Minnie Wampler, a nol pross was entered.

Com. vs. Harry Shanebrook on information of Emory A. Jacoby, a nol pross was entered.

Com. vs. George and Emma Tonsil indicted by Grand Jury for assault and battery on information of Ida Monroe was ended by nol pross entered and county to pay the costs.

Com. vs. Wm. Fissel, charged with fornication and bastardy on information of Catharine Riley, nol pross entered.

Com. vs. John Eline, charged with fornication and bastardy on information of Alice Oneta Little was settled.

Com. vs. Chas. Warren, charged with larceny on information of John Raymond was discharged on parole and to be of good behavior for one year.

Com. vs. George Reese, charged with being a tramp on information of John Shealer. Defendant claimed he lived in county in Hamiltonban Twp. and was discharged on parole and to be of good behavior for one year.

Com. vs. Frank Hartlaub, charged with assault and battery on information of Edward F. and James G. Straley was settled.

Com. vs. Titus E. Trostle, charged with fornication and bastardy on information of Blanche Herman was settled.

Com. vs. Wm. Stoops, charged with fornication on information of Harry W. Spence, nol pross was entered.

There were thirty-four cases on the criminal calendar, including old and new, and only a few of them were continued, being the following:

Com. vs. John Wiestman, three cases, charged with fornication and bastardy, adultery and statutory rape on information of P. H. Laughman.

Com. vs. Chas. Mummert charged with carrying concealed weapon on information of Henry Rahn.

Com. vs. Samuel F. Miller, charged with fornication and bastardy on information of Ruth Fleming.

Com. vs. A. J. P. Stannard, charged with false pretense on information of H. J. Flesman. Defendant was alleged to be a fugitive.

Com. vs. Aaron Kinneman, charged in two cases on information of Jacob and Charles Mummert with assault and battery.

Com. vs. Felix Decker, charged on information of Henry Kinneman with selling liquor to minor.

Miscellaneous Business.

Frank Warthen was appointed constable of Highland township to fill the unexpired term of Howard Brown who has moved out of township.

The widow's list under the $300 law in estate of Abraham Keckler was confirmed nisi. Property taken was personality.

The Citizens' Trust Company of Gettysburg was appointed guardian of Edward and Helen Reidenbach, minor children of John P. Reidenbach, late of Littlestown.

John Baker and the estate of D. R. Musselman were discharged as administrators of John W. Baker, late of Hamiltonban township.

The account of Sadie A. Meckley, minor child of Chas. L. Meckley, late of Straban township was confirmed and ward being of age and balance of $515.09 having been paid to her guardian was discharged.

Sale of real estate of Samuel Spangler, deceased, six acres in Union township, was awarded, order directed to Wm. F. Spangler.

Sale of real estate of Thomas A. Furguson, deceased, 39 acres in Cumberland township, was awarded, order being directed to James H. McCullough as trustee.

The sale of real estate of Jennie Wampler, deceased, property in Bendersville to Annie B. Deardorff for $1120 was confirmed.

On petition of Sheriff Fissel the sanity of John Woodward had been inquired into and two physicians having declared him to be insane, an order was made to commit him to the Harrisburg State Asylum at the costs of the county. He had previously been an inmate of the asylum.

Trial List of Civil Cases.

Of the seventeen cases on the trial list of civil cases, three were tried, a large number settled and a few were continued.

The first case tried was that of Rocky Ridge Coal and Mining Co. vs. John R. Bittinger, trading as Bittinger Lime Company. The claim was for coal delivered. The defense was that at the time the coal was bought defendant was not a member of the Bittinger Lime Company and was not personally responsible for the coal. Defendant had been trading under the name of Bittinger Lime Company but alleged all his interests had been transferred to his sons before the goods sued for had been obtained. The jury gave a verdict to the plaintiff Co. for full amount of their claim, $458.50. J. D. Kieth, Esq., for plaintiff; C. S. Duncan, Esq., for defendant.

Catharine Hershey vs. Charles J. Delone was an action to personally recover from defendant a dower and unpaid interest. Defendant had bought a farm subject to a dower and had given no obligation for dower, the title to land being subject to it. Defendant contended that he was not personally responsible for the dower but plaintiff must resort to the land and had offered land to her for such purpose. The mill on land had burnt down and defendant had collected $2,000 insurance, which complicated the situation. A verdict for $1114.79 was awarded by jury in favor of the plaintiff and the legal question was reserved for the decision by the court, whether there was any personal liability on part of defendant for same. C. S. Duncan, Esq., and J. D. Kieth, Esq., for plaintiff, and C. J. Delone for defendant.

The last case to be tried was Sarah E. Sprengle vs. Christian Sprengle. The action is for the recovery of $1000 based on a note for that amount J. N. Logan of York with George J. Benner and J. D. Kieth, Esqs., represent the plaintiff and L. S. Fake of York, and D. P. McPherson, Esqs., are for the defendant. By the testimony of N. B. Sprengle it appeared that he held the hand of Christian Sprengle when he signed note with lead pencil. The signature on note offered in evidence is in ink. Expert testimony has been offered and there are explanations that the lead pencil writing was traced over in ink and that there are traces of the lead pencil marks.

The settled civil cases are the following:

Chas. H. Haar vs. J. Clayton Myers, Clayton Fissel, Michael Livingston. Action of trespass involving a strip of ground and it was settled by plaintiff conveying to defendants the strip of ground subject to a right of way for himself, also gave defendant use of a well and the costs were divided.

Edward F. Straley vs. Fannie Hartlaub and Frank Hartlaub, action of trespass for the placing of a fence across road of plaintiff. The Court recently in an equity case found that the plaintiff was entitled to a right of way over the disputed road and case was settled by defendant agreeing to take fence off road and put it back where it had been and all partition fences were agreed to and defendant paid plaintiff $25 and all the costs.

The three cases of the Retail Merchants' Association of Gettysburg for promised contributions to the fund to secure the National Guard last summer were finally settled. In the case against B. F. Kindig, settlement was made by payment of $50 and defendant paying all the costs.

The case against P. M. Bruner was settled by payment of $37.50 and defendant paying all the costs.

The case against Mrs. Elise Braundreuter was settled by payment of $15 and after costs were paid out of this sum there was left the sum of $1.75 toward the encampment expenses.

James H. Sanders vs. Western Maryland R. R. Co. An action of trespass settled by paying amount of the claim of $37.

Edward Murren vs. Wm. P. Devine and J. Wallace Noel vs. Wm. P. Devine, trespass cases by reason of injuries received in a runaway for which it was said defendant's automobile was responsible were settled by a fair moneyed consideration, the amount of which has not been made public but was satisfactory to all parties.

J. D. Swope vs. Jacob C. Schriver, a contest over small amount of lumber both parties claimed to have bought from encampment officers at the breaking up of camp last summer was settled by defendant paying plaintiff $5 and the costs.

Five cases were continued as follows:

John H. Gilliland vs. James W. Elcholtz, an action of trespass. The death of plaintiff caused continuance.

Emory A. Jacoby vs. Frank Hartlaub, action of trespass for slander, was continued by consent of parties.

Clyde F. Sprengle vs. Western Maryland R. R. Co., an action of trespass was continued by consent.

Amos F. Bosserman vs. Charles G. Menges, an action of trespass was continued by consent.

Dr. Eugene Elgin vs. Jacob Goodenberger, Edward Bream and Jacob E. Sharetts, Directors of Poor of Adams County, was continued by consent.

MARRIAGES.

Samuel Smyser Lewis, postmaster of York, and well known in this place, and Miss Miriam S. Frazer, daughter of Edgar K. Frazer of Harrisburg, were united in marriage on last Thursday evening at the home of the bride, by Rev. Dr. A. G. Fastnacht.

The parlor where the wedding took place was decorated in green and white, and the bride and groom stood behind a cluster of American Beauty roses presented by the Harrisburg Postoffice Athletic Association. The bride entered the parlor on the arm of her father, who gave her away and the best man was Dr. A. H. Lafean of York.

A wedding dinner followed the ceremony and at this time was given a great serenade, the music being furnished by the York City Band and Zombo Temple Band, Mystic Shriners of Harrisburg. The serenaders were given an informal reception. After a wedding trip through the East they will occupy their cottage at Goldsboro and next fall will reside in York.

Mrs. Lewis received many costly presents. Among them were a silver service from the York postoffice employees, a chest of silver from Congressman D. F. Lafean, a mahogany library table from the internal revenue office employees in Harrisburg, and after dinner set from Dr. A. H. Lafean.

SCHOOL DIRECTORS ELECT

PROF. H. MILTON ROTH COUNTY SUPT. FOR NEXT THREE YEARS

One Hundred and Ninety Three Directors Present and 101 Votes Cast for Prof. Roth on First Ballot.

The School Directors of Adams County met in convention on Tuesday morning to elect a County Superintendent for the next three years. The rain on Monday evening resulted in a large attendance from the country districts and upon roll call 190 directors of the 210 in the county were present and before the balloting was finished several came in.

At 10.30 Superintendent H. Milton Roth called the convention to order and read the announcement as advertised in the papers, that the business of the convention was to select viva voce by a majority of the whole number of directors present, one person of literary and scientific acquirements, and skill and experience in the art of teaching as county superintendent for the three succeeding years.

At the close of the announcement Prof. Roth asked for nominations for president of the convention and the Hon. Charles L. Longsdorf of Biglerville was nominated. A motion immediately followed that nominations close and this carrying, a motion prevailed that Mr. Longsdorf be elected by acclamation.

Geo D. Sheely of Oxford township, and D. H. Coleman of Gettysburg were appointed to escort the president to the chair and Mr. Longsdorf on taking the chair briefly thanked the convention for the honor conferred on him and asked for nominations for vice presidents.

C. Arthur Griest of Butler, Josiah Prickett of Menallen and J. C. Redding of Cumberland were nominated and elected vice presidents.

H. F. Stambaugh of Abbottstown, and Geo. D. Sheely of Oxford township were then nominated and elected secretaries.

Roll call was next taken and 190 directors were announced by the secretaries to be present.

Calvin Hamilton of Gettysburg, moved that the salary of the superintendent remain as it has been, $1500 for the next three years and said as the code had not yet become a law that whatever the convention did would fix the salary for the next three years.

Prof. Roth at this point read an official letter received from State Superintendent of Public Instruction Nathan C. Schaeffer, giving the legal status of the act of the present convention as follows:

"The proposed School Code has passed second reading in the Senate but can not be enacted into law before the first Tuesday of May; hence the county, city, borough and township superintendents must be elected under the old law for a term of three years, nor can the salary proposed in the code be made to apply to the three year term beginning on first Monday of June."

Furthermore, it is not legal for the tri-annual convention of school directors to take any action in regard to increasing the salary of the proposed assistant superintendents.

"Very respectfully,

"Nathan C. Schaeffer."

At close of reading this letter the motion of Calvin Hamilton carried to fix the salary of superintendent at $1500.

Nominations for Superintendent were then asked for and names of Prof. H. Milton Roth, Prof. W. A. Burgoon and Charles H. Richter were placed in nomination and a ballot was immediately taken resulting as follows:

Prof. Roth 101
Prof. Burgoon 41
Chas. H. Richter 51

Prof. Roth was declared to be the duly elected Superintendent of Schools of Adams County for the next three years and the Convention immediately adjourned.

Musical Clubs Concert.

The Combined Musical Clubs of Gettysburg College gave a splendid concert in Erna Chapel on last Thursday evening. The Clubs are unusually good and strong this year. The proof of this was a most successful concert tour from which they returned last Wednesday, giving concerts in Millintown, Hollidaysburg, Johnstown, Pittsburg, Connellsville, Berlin, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Columbia. Crowded houses greeted them at every place. The Musical Clubs are one of the best advertisements for Gettysburg College and it is most gratifying to all friends of the College that the Clubs this year have added to the reputation of the College.

Taylor Held to be Director of Poor.

The Supreme Court on Monday handed down an opinion in the contest between H. W. Taylor and Jacob E. Sharetts as to the office of Director of Poor, affirming the decision of the lower Court in giving the office to Taylor.

Visit of Senators.

The State Senators made a visit to Gettysburg last week, arriving on Wednesday evening, about forty being in the party. They were in charge of Senator William Martin and went over the battlefield on Thursday. Senator E. M. Herbst of Berks county, well known to our people was of the party.

DEATHS.

MRS. HIRAM BAKER, died at her home in Franklin township on Thursday of last week aged about 45 years. Death was due to pneumonia, and is specially sad by reason of the death of her husband five days prior to her death leaving four little children Edna, Alice, Albert and Allen without father and mother. The interment was at Mt. Carmel Church.

JOHN BASHOR of Straban township met with sudden death on Sunday. He is superintendent of the Sunday School of the Reformed Church at New Chester and was in his place conducting the meeting on Sunday. Complaining of feeling unwell he walked out of the building to get a breath of fresh air and fell over. He was placed on a cot but before he reached his home had expired. He was about 65 years old. He enjoyed the respect of every one who knew him. The funeral will be held this Wednesday morning. He leaves besides his wife one daughter, Mrs. Oliver Myers of Hamilton township, and a step-son, Wm. Huff.

DEATHS.

Mrs. HIRAM BAKER, died at her home in Franklin township on Thursday of last week aged about 45 years. Death was due to pneumonia, and is especially sad by reason of the death of her husband five days prior to her death leaving four little children Edna, Alice, Albert and Allen without father and mother. The interment was at Mt. Carmel Church.

JOHN BASHOAR of Straban township met with sudden death on Sunday. He is superintendent of the Sunday School of the Reformed Church at New Chester and was in his place conducting the meeting on Sunday. Complaining of feeling unwell he walked out of the building to get a breath of fresh air and fell over. He was placed on a cot but before he reached his home had expired. He was about 65 years old. He enjoyed the respect of every one who knew him. The funeral will be held this Wednesday morning. He leaves besides his wife one daughter, Mrs. Oliver Myers of Hamilton township, and a step-son, Wm. Huff.

WOMEN HELPED

By Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy for Kidneys and Liver.

Disorders of women are the result of general bodily weakness. Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy is a strength builder and for women it has proved of great value. Thousands testify to this. A sick woman almost always has kidney trouble, which causes pain in the back, headache, nervousness and other distressing symptoms. Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy helps the Kidneys and Liver to act properly, purifies the blood and gently moves the bowels, striking at the cause of Kidney, Liver, Blood and Bladder troubles. For over 35 years it has enjoyed steady and merited success, for it is an honest remedy and has stood the test of time. Write Dr. David Kennedy Co., Rondout, N. Y. for a free sample bottle and valuable medical booklet. Large bottle $1.00 at all druggists.

Firemen's Relief Fund Grows.

The Relief Fund of the Gettysburg Steam Fire Engine Company has almost doubled by the proceeds of the Food Sale held by the Company and their friends at the Eugene House on last Friday and Saturday evenings. The people of the town contributed liberally to the Food Sale and patronized it well. On Friday evening the Fire Company treated the town to a parade in full uniform and it was appreciated by a large crowd at the sale. The net proceeds of the Sale were about $240 and this will be added to the $300 recently set aside by the Company making a total of $540 that will be invested, the interest of which will be applied to the relief and care of any firemen who will be hurt in the discharge of his duties.

Debating Contest.

On last Friday evening the Johns Hopkins Debating team met the Gettysburg College team and the question "Resolved that the present distribution of powers between the federal and State governments should be revised in pursuance of a general policy of further Centralization" was upheld affirmatively by the home team composed of E. J. Bowman and C. M. Davis of the Senior class and negatively by the Johns Hopkins team. The Judges Dr. B. O. McIntire of Dickinson College; Prof. U. S. Steele of Harrisburg High School and Dr. W. D. Rorer, principal of the Harrisburg Academy, gave the decision to the Johns Hopkins team.

This result ties the score in a triangular debating contest between Johns Hopkins, Washington and Lee and Gettysburg College, each team having won one and lost one. Gettysburg having won from Washington and Lee.

Wins $50 Prize.

S. Frank Snyder of Gettysburg College won first prize of fifty dollars in the oratorical contest of the Intercollegiate Prohibition Association composed of leagues from eight Pennsylvania Colleges which took place in Annapolis last Friday. Jas. C. McConnell of Grove City College, Grove City won second prize of ten dollars.

The contest was one of the best exhibitions of oratorical ability held at Lebanon Valley College, and was a close race between the first three speakers. The judges on literary merit and thought were Dr. Samuel Sempie, Titusville, Pa.; W. H. S. Thomson, Pittsburg, Pa.; Rev. J. C. Day, Tyrone, Pa. The Judges of the Oratory and delivery were Hon. L. C. Williams, Royersford, Pa.; Dr. Jos. Lemberger, Lebanon, Pa.; Dr. Fluck, Myerstown.

The following were the contesting orators: Susquehanna College, Sam.

S. Barnes; Gettysburg, S. Frank Snyder; Juniata, Wm. L. Judy; Albright, Roy M. Smith; Geneva, M. C. Mitchell; Grove City, Jas. McConnell; Lebanon Valley, Amos H. Weigle; and Rutgers, A. D. Campbell.

Next Year's Oratorical contest and convention will be held at Geneva College, Beaver Falls, Pa.

Unions Organized.

Mrs. Katharine Dey Houck, one of the State Organizers for the Woman's Christian Temperance Union has been at work during the past month in the organization of Unions and has successfully organized Unions in the following six boroughs of the county, Abbottstown, Bendersville, Biglerville, East Berlin, Littlestown and New Oxford, and expects to visit Fairfield, Oritanna and McKnightstown for this purpose.

Lecture.

Prof. Burton L. Rockwell of Philadelphia will deliver four lectures in county this week. His lectures are illustrated with stereopticon views and have been received with great favor wherever delivered. On Tuesday evening May 2 he will speak at Bendersville, on Wednesday evening at Arendtsville, on Thursday evening at Biglerville.

On Friday evening Prof. Rockwell will speak in the court house, Gettysburg, on the subject, "The Rebellion and the Opposition Army."

MARRIAGES.

Romanus Florence, brother of the bride, was groomsmen. The bride was attired in a gown of white satin with train, wore a veil, and carried a handsome bouquet of white carnations. The bridesmaid was dressed in pink silk. A reception was held in the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Porter, of Bendersville, announce the wedding of their daughter, Hope E. Porter, to Arthur G. Radford, on Sunday morning, April 23 in Trinity Protestant church in Steelton. After a month's honeymoon at the bride's home and Osceola Mills they will reside on Chestnut street, Steelton, until August first. Then they intend going to Florida to make their future home.

L. M. Buehler's Success.

L. M. Buehler the enterprising drug gist rather than await the ordinary methods of introduction, urged the Dr. Howard Co. to secure a quick sale for their celebrated specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia by offering the regular 50c bottle at half price.

The wonderful success of this plan was a great surprise even to L. M. Buehler and today there are scores of people here in Gettysburg who are using and praising this remarkable remedy.

In addition to selling a 50c bottle of Dr. Howard's specific for 25c L. M. Buehler has so much faith in the remedy that he will refund the money to anyone whom it does not cure.

When your head aches, your stomach does not digest food easily and naturally when there is constipation, specks before the eyes, tired feeling, giddiness, bad taste in the mouth, coated tongue, heart burn, sour stomach, roaring or ringing in the ears, melancholy and liver troubles Dr. Howard's specific will cure you.

County W. C. T. U. Meeting.

The County Executive of the W. C. T. U. will meet with Mrs. K. D. Houck at the Pitzer House, Thursday, May 4, at 2 o'clock, p. m. We especially urge the officers of the new organizations to be present.

Can You Get Hot Water When You Want It?

CAN you get hot water at the turn of the faucet when there are no fires in the house—without waiting, or without lighting any heating device?

Can you always get hot water, even though there has been an unusual call upon the supply by other members of the family?

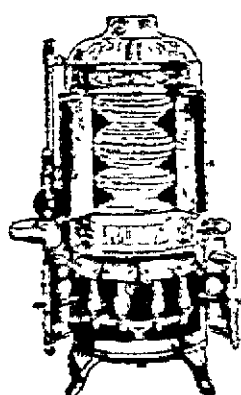

Can you get all the hot water you want the first thing in the morning or late at night? If not, you are missing one of the modern conveniences easily available in every home.

This miracle worker, which will give you an unlimited supply of hot water at any time of day or night, is called the RUUD AUTOMATIC GAS WATER HEATER. It requires no attention. You do not have to light it or put it out—all you do is turn the faucet and hot water flows. The best idea of a RUUD may be had from an actual demonstration. Call at our salesrooms and see the RUUD in actual operation.

The RUUD AUTOMATIC GAS WATER HEATER is brought into the cellar and connected with the water and gas pipes. A tiny pilot light is lighted and that is the end as far as you are concerned.

When the hot water faucet is open, the pressure of water operates a valve which turns on the gas in the burner—turning off the faucet automatically puts out the gas.

For reasons of economy and to prevent the water from getting too hot a temperature regulator automatically turns down the gas every time the water reaches a certain temperature, and automatically turns it on as the water starts to cool. This is the most wonderful part of the RUUD—it allows only enough gas to be burned to keep the water hot, and only the water that is actually used is heated.

MARRIAGES.

Romanus Florence, brother of the bride, was groomsmen. The bride was attired in a gown of white satin with train, wore a veil and carried a handsome bouquet of white carnations. The bridesmaid was dressed in pink silk. A reception was held in the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Porter, of Bendersville, announce the wedding of their daughter, Hope E. Porter, to Arthur G. Radford, on Sunday morning, April 23 in Trinity Protestant church in Steelton. After a month's honeymoon at the bride's home and Osceola Mills they will reside on Chestnut street, Steelton, until August first. Then they intend going to Florida to make their future home.

L. M. Buehler's Success.

L. M. Buehler the enterprising drug gist rather than await the ordinary methods of introduction, urged the Dr. Howard Co. to secure a quick sale for their celebrated specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia by offering the regular 50c bottle at half price.

The wonderful success of this plan was a great surprise even to L. M. Buehler and today there are scores of people here in Gettysburg who are using and praising this remarkable remedy.

In addition to selling a 50c bottle of Dr. Howard's specific for 25c L. M. Buehler has so much faith in the remedy that he will refund the money to anyone whom it does not cure.

When your head aches, your stomach does not digest food easily and naturally when there is constipation, specks before the eyes, tired feeling, giddiness, bad taste in the mouth, coated tongue, heart burn, sour stomach, roaring or ringing in the ears, melancholy and liver troubles Dr. Howard's specific will cure you.

Can You Get Hot Water When You Want It?

CAN you get hot water at the turn of the faucet when there are no fires in the house—without waiting, or without lighting any heating device?

Can you always get hot water, even though there has been an unusual call upon the supply by other members of the family?

Can you get all the hot water you want the first thing in the morning or late at night? If not, you are missing one of the modern conveniences easily available in every home.

This miracle worker, which will give you an unlimited supply of hot water at any time of day or night, is called the RUUD AUTOMATIC GAS WATER HEATER. It requires no attention. You do not have to light it or put it out—all you do is turn the faucet and hot water flows. The best idea of a RUUD may be had from an actual demonstration. Call at our salesrooms and see the RUUD in actual operation.

The RUUD AUTOMATIC GAS WATER HEATER is brought into the cellar and connected with the water and gas pipes. A tiny pilot light is lighted and that is the end as far as you are concerned.

When the hot water faucet is open, the pressure of water operates a valve which turns on the gas in the burner—turning off the faucet automatically puts out the gas.

For reasons of economy and to prevent the water from getting too hot a temperature regulator automatically turns down the gas every time the water reaches a certain temperature, and automatically turns it on as the water starts to cool. This is the most wonderful part of the RUUD—it allows only enough gas to be burned to keep the water hot, and only the water that is actually used is heated.

HOW I GOT MY START

Story of a Man Who Made a Little Fortune in One Night

By REGINALD D. HAVEN

I was working for small wages for a safe and lock company. My work was mending locks that had got out of order and doing other odd jobs that required some knowledge of the business. I was anxious to get my affairs in shape to marry my present wife, but didn't see much prospect. The concern I was with kept me tinkering all the while, and when it wanted a man to start a branch office or something like that it would choose one of the clerks in the office.

I had gone home one evening and had my supper when there was a ring at the doorbell and a boy handed me a note. It was written on a letter head of a big manufacturing firm and said that Mr. Partington, treasurer of the company I worked for, had recommended me for a special job and asked that I come around to the office as soon as convenient.

Catching up my tool bag, which I had brought home with me, I went with the boy to the office of the manufacturing company, pleased with the prospect of making a tender, and found there a tall, handsomely dressed man, with gray hair and mutton chop whiskers, and two or three clerks sitting on stools working over ponderous books.

"Can you open that safe?" asked the man with the gray whiskers. "We've got a lot of work to do here this evening, and our cashier, who knows the combination, went out of town this afternoon."

I looked at the name of the maker in gold letters on the safe, made my observations and told the gentleman that I didn't know any way to pick the lock without drilling a hole where I could get at the tumblers and that would involve considerable expense to put his safe in order again.

"Never mind the expense," he said impatiently. "I've got to put in a bid tomorrow on a hundred thousand rifles for the army, on which I'll make half a million. The specifications are all in there. I must get them out and go over them to see that they are right. The slightest slip in any detail will throw out my bid. Come; get to work."

I plunged my hand into my bag, got out my brace and bits, adjusted them and was soon at work.

Now, as I worked it occurred to me that here was the opportunity of my life. If this gentleman was dependent for his half million on me to get him into the safe, why shouldn't I have something more than a beggarly ten dollar bill? I saw that he was impatient and thought I might get an offer to do the work within a given limit of time.

"I'm afraid," I said, "this is going to be an all night job."

"See here, young man," said the gentleman, "is there anything you want especially that costs a lot more money than you've got?"

"Yes, there is," I replied. "I want a girl."

"Oh, I can't give you a girl!"

"I could get the girl quick enough if I had anything to marry on."

"Hm!" said the gentleman, biting at my hook. "I see. How soon can you guarantee to open the safe if it's made worth your while to hurry?"

"Three-quarters of an hour."

"Very well. If you'll do it in that time I'll give you $3,000. If you do it in thirty minutes I'll make it $5,000."

"Give me a bit of writing for that."

I said, and without waiting for him to do so I began to drill furiously, my racket making a terrible sound.

"Mr. Perkins," said the gentleman to one of the clerks, "take the typewriter and write to my dictation."

One of the clerks sat down at a typewriting machine and wrote out a contract to cover the agreement made with me. When it was finished the gentleman signed it and gave it to me. I wasn't going to be fooled, so I stepped drilling and read it.

"Write at the bottom of it," I said. "The money to be paid before the said Thomas Jakeaway leaves this office."

He took the paper to his mahogany desk and wrote what I required, while I went on drilling.

"Do you have to make all that noise?" he snapped. "Can't you put some oil or something on your drill? They'll think outside there's a burglary going on in here. If they come in to investigate I'd have to explain, and there'd be a lot of delay."

"The faster I work," I said, "the more noise."

"Mr. Perkins, you go on typewriting. Never mind what you write. Make enough clatter to drown this boring."

"All right, sir." And the young man began to pound the keys so hard that I thought he would break something.

I was working like a beaver when the gentleman came and stood over me, watching me. Suddenly my brace slipped, and as I was pressing hard against it in a stooping position I lost my balance and fell against him.

Something dropped at my feet. I picked it up and felt the soft smoothness of wax. The gentleman snatched it from me, and without looking up at him I readjusted my brace and went to work again.

It is singular how quick the reasoning process will develop results in one's brain. In less time than it takes to tell it I had made a deduction. This "gentleman" was a fake. He was made up to personate the head of the concern. He was wearing a wax nose. I had joggled him, and it had fallen off his face. Had I looked up I would have seen him with his own natural nose, but this would have betrayed the fact that I had got on to his scheme. He had perjured the letter head on which he had written me, and his two clerks were confederates.

I pretended to work all the faster after this incident, but in reality accomplished very little. I didn't dare lessen the pressure of my bit on the steel, for the diminution of noise would have betrayed me, but I bored to make the hole larger instead of deeper. I couldn't see my man's face, but he was evidently at least partly reassured. At any rate, he said nothing.

And while I worked I thought. Here was I unwittingly participating in a burglary. All other considerations were lost in my horror of having to share the punishment that these men were likely to get in the end. My whole mind was at once bent on outwitting them. The moment they suspected that I had got on to their scheme I would be forced to continue my work at the muzzle of a revolver. What should I do? Anything I should do to attract attention without would fall upon me as well as on the burglars.

I saw but one possible way of defeating their purpose. That was to finish the drilling, get at the tumblers and put them so out of gear that to get them in order again would require taking out the whole apparatus. On this course I resolved.

Having come to a decision, I was anxious to get through as soon as possible, fearing as much as they that we might be caught in the act. I therefore worked with all my vigor, the typewriter pounding the while. My employer, seeing that I was doing my best, seemed to regain any confidence he might have lost by his mishap.

"You're all right, young man. You're sure to win. Ten minutes yet to make your $3,000. I'll do better. I'll make it $10,000."

He didn't need to make it $10,000 to induce me to hurry. If any one should interrupt the proceedings I didn't see how I would escape the penitentiary. So I worked as hard as I could, but in order to inspire confidence I purposely lost the $10,000 by two minutes.

"That's all right," said the chief in response to my look of disappointment. "Two minutes don't make any difference to a man who will make as much out of your work as I will. I'll give you the whole amount. Now open the door."

"The most important work yet remains," I replied. "These tumblers are complicated affairs. If I get them out of gear I'll lose this fortune and my girl too."

"Well, be careful," he said anxiously.

Meanwhile my brain had been as busy as my hands. I saw that more depended on my deceiving them than in throwing the lock out of gear. If I could persuade them to give up their job without my throwing the lock out of gear it might help me in the story I would tell after all was over. I worked on for awhile, then let a piece of steel in the lock drop in its place with a click. With an exclamation and an assumed look of horror I turned toward the men.

"What is it?" cried the chief.

"I've done it."

"What?"

"I couldn't open it now if you'd give me a million. I've lost! I've lost!"

"I believe you're fooling," said the man.

He called the two "clerks" together for a consultation. I knew very well that they were discussing the feasibility of forcing me at the point of a pistol to go on. I also saw from their expressions that two of them believed my story and the third was doubtful. Finally the two convinced the third, and the chief, approaching me, said:

"You've done the best you could, and I'm sorry you've lost your prize. If you'll come around in the morning I'll make you a handsome present. I can't do it now because all the money is in the safe. You can go now. Goodbye."

I thanked him, picked up my bag and was about to leave when the man who had doubted by sincerity approached the chief excitedly and said:

"You don't mean to say you're going to let him go out first and send cops in here after us?"

From this point they threw off all idea of deceiving me. The leader said to me: "You stay here for ten minutes. Ten minutes—do you hear? One of us will be waiting outside, and if you come before ten minutes you're a dead man. See?"

I feigned to be very much astonished and frightened and told them I would stay as long as they wished. Then they turned out the lights and went away. I knew their ten minutes for me to stay didn't mean anything, and after I was satisfied they were off I went out myself and in a drug store looked up the residence of the president of the company. Then I went to his house and told him the whole story, handing him my written promise of $5,000 if I opened the safe within a given time. The next day he gave me a check for the $10,000 I had been promised verbally. There was $200,000 in the safe.

It is needless to say that I got married, furnished a house plainly and had plenty left to set up in business in the hardware line, making locks, electric bells, etc., a specialty. I am now well off and the father of six children.

"You're all right, young man. You're sure to win. Ten minutes yet to make your $5,000. I'll do better. I'll make it $10,000."

He didn't need to make it $10,000 to induce me to hurry. If any one should interrupt the proceedings I didn't see how I would escape the penitentiary. So I worked as hard as I could, but in order to inspire confidence I purposely lost the $10,000 by two minutes.

"That's all right," said the chief in response to my look of disappointment. "Two minutes don't make any difference to a man who will make as much out of your work as I will. I'll give you the whole amount. Now open the door."

"The most important work yet remains," I replied. "These tumblers are complicated affairs. If I get them out of gear I'll lose this fortune and my girl too."

"Well, be careful," he said anxiously.

Meanwhile my brain had been as busy as my hands. I saw that more depended on my deceiving them than in throwing the lock out of gear. If I could persuade them to give up their job without my throwing the lock out of gear it might help me in the story I would tell after all was over. I worked on for awhile, then let a piece of steel in the lock drop in its place with a click. With an exclamation and an assumed look of horror I turned toward the men.

"What is it?" cried the chief.

"I've done it."

"What?"

"I couldn't open it now if you'd give me a million. I've lost! I've lost!"

"I believe you're fooling," said the man.

He called the two "clerks" together for a consultation. I knew very well that they were discussing the feasibility of forcing me at the point of a pistol to go on. I also saw from their expressions that two of them believed my story and the third was doubtful. Finally the two convinced the third, and the chief, approaching me, said:

"You've done the best you could, and I'm sorry you've lost your prize. If you'll come around in the morning I'll make you a handsome present. I can't do it now because all the money is in the safe. You can go now. Goodbye."

I thanked him, picked up my bag and was about to leave when the man who had doubted by sincerity approached the chief excitedly and said:

"You don't mean to say you're going to let him go out first and send cops in here after us?"

From this point they threw off all idea of deceiving me. The leader said to me: "You stay here for ten minutes. Ten minutes—do you hear? One of us will be waiting outside, and if you come before ten minutes you're a dead man. See?"

I feigned to be very much astonished and frightened and told them I would stay as long as they wished. Then they turned out the lights and went away. I knew their ten minutes for me to stay didn't mean anything, and after I was satisfied they were off I went out myself and in a drug store looked up the residence of the president of the company. Then I went to his house and told him the whole story, handing him my written promise of $5,000 if I opened the safe within a given time. The next day he gave me a check for the $10,000 I had been promised verbally. There was $200,000 in the safe.

It is needless to say that I got married, furnished a house plainly and had plenty left to set up in business in the hardware line, making locks, etc. etc. etc. I am now well and the father of six children.

THE MAY MAGAZINES

THE GAME OF GAMES GIVEN MUCH CONSIDERATION

Interesting Baseball Statistics and Information about the National Game.

Hugh S. Fullerton, the baseball expert, writes on base stealing in the May AMERICAN MAGAZINE. He includes the following interesting statistics:

"In the average seasons of the two major leagues—the American and the National—89,156 face the pitchers. Of these 27,058 reach first base—19,154 of them on safe hits, 1,303 on errors that permit them to achieve the first ninety feet, 445 by being hit by pitched balls and 5,956 on bases on balls. These figures are the averages of the two leagues for five seasons. Of the 27,058 who reach first base, 17,138 arrive at second, 12,822 at third and 8,272 score."

"Yet the average number of stolen bases in the 1,232 games of the two seasons of the major leagues is 2,744. That is, out of 55,988 opportunities to steal bases, only 2,744 are improved. One runner in twenty steals a base."

"The figures appear to prove that the pitchers and catchers have acquired a mastery over the runners. The truth is that the cause of the degeneracy of the art of base running is twofold: first, the hit-and-run play and the sacrifice, and second, the tendency toward stereotyped playing. Of the 2,744 pilferings 1,951 are of second base, 774 of third and 19 from third to the final goal."

The Game of Games.

A graphic description of the experiences of baseball players and their methods of play appears in THE WORLD TODAY for May. The writer, Harvey L. Lamb, thus describes "inside ball":

You go to a game and shout yourself hoarse.

"Hit it out, you, you 'bouchard! What yer standing there for? Think this is a pink tea? They're all perfectly good—hit 'em!" And the player at the plate, bearing, longs to obey—for all players love to hit—yet holds himself in.

"Make him give you three balls. Then hit!" are his orders from the bench, from the baseball general ordering the game. A man is on third. There is but one out. Hits have been few and far between. But a long fly will score the man. How get a long fly? By meeting one which "cuts the heart of the plate" square and fair. How get the pitcher to serve such a ball? By "working" him until three balls have been called, when the fourth ball must come over the plate, or the batter be given a pass. Hence the orders. If they go wrong, if the pitcher succeeds in getting three strikes across before three balls, the batter strikes out, and a groan goes up from the crowd. But the batter knows and the pitcher knows, and the team knows, and the players on the bench know, that the man at the plate struck out because he was obeying orders. That's inside ball, too, another angle!

My heart's on the diamond,
My heart is not here;
My heart's on the diamond,
A-chasing the sphere,
A-chasing the round ball and batting also;
My heart's on the diamond wherever I go.

Primavera

Isn't it good to have the flowers
Back in the world again!
O happy sun,
The winter's done!
Thank God for the April rain—
For the roar and rush of the rainbowed showers
On the shining windowpane.

Isn't it good to see the trees
All living green once more!
O merry bird,
How hast thou fared
Down there on a Southern shore!
Birds, blossoms, and butterflies and bees—
What can the heart ask more?

Isn't it good to lie all day
Out in the blazing sun,
Deep in the grass,
Watch the hours pass,
Summer is but begun—
Watch the stream a-dream on its lilted way
Till the happy day is done.

Isn't it good to fall asleep,
With the window open wide,
While to and fro
Soft come and go

Without Fear of Successful Contradiction, We Claim that the

Ostermoor : Mattress : $15.00

is Better than all Others for these very Pertinent Reasons:

Most Comfortable bed ever slept on—soft, yielding, but springy and resilient—never packs or gets lumpy, or loses its feeling of newness. That is because it is made of Ostermoor sheets; built, not stuffed. We have scores of letters from doctors and competent judges who declare it the only

Absolutely sanitary mattress because dust cannot work into it; no vermin can harbor in it; a sun-bath is all the renovating it ever needs; it will not absorb dampness, disease germs, or any poison from perspiration or the atmosphere. It is always

Perfectly Dry because non-absorbent. If the ticking is dry, the mattress is dry. No taking cold from it, no unpleasant or musty odor about it; always fresh and sweet. Testimonials in our free book bear witness for those who have used it for thirty years or more and who do not hesitate to say that it

Lasts a Life-time and stays in perfect condition. It never needs remaking or renovating. You may remove and clean the tick as often as you like.

No other mattress in the world, of any material, at any price, from any maker or through any dealer, can truthfully make and prove all the claims as can the Ostermoor. Do not take our word for it—our word is good—but if you will the proof is there from U. S. Government tests and reports, letters from prominent men and women and the testimony of schools, hotels, hospitals and steamships where extraordinary service is required.

The book is handsome as well as convincing; contains over 200 illustrations—about beds of all ages about sleep, its lack (insomnia); about mattress-hair—some things will be surprising and you will wish you had known them long ago. Of course, it also explains the merits and styles of Ostermoor Mattresses, Church cushions, etc. This book costs you a post card; don't you wish a copy? With it we send free samples of ticking for your selection.

Thirty Nights Free Trial Granted, and money returned if dissatisfied. You will find the name "OSTERMOOR" sewed on the end of every genuine Mattress.

May GOOD HOUSEKEEPING.

Waste in the Household.

In the Woman's Home Companion for May the subject of Waste in the Household is considered, in which it is said, "Take the single item of marketing. Investigators have reported that only one one third of the housekeepers in American cities and towns do their own marketing. The other two thirds intrust it, save on special occasions, to servants, children and the telephone. In the average town where the telephone service is unlimited three fourths of the ordering at butcher shops is done over the wire. Dealers all approve the telephone method because it is a time saver for them as well as the customer. Many of them maintain that it is fully as economical for the housewife, but actual investigation proves that this is not true. The housewife who selects her meats and green vegetables with personal care and discusses comparative prices of different brands in groceries saves from five to fifteen per cent. on her orders. These figures were furnished by representatives of three reliable firms in as many typical American cities: New York, Detroit and Baltimore, and the same figures have been found to hold good in smaller cities and towns. Yours may be the exception to the rule, but find out for yourself if this is so; don't take anybody's word for it.

A Thrilling Day in Richmond.

A thrilling day for us was the Sunday of Stoneman's raid, when, as usual, a large congregation met at St. Paul's Church, remaining for the communion service. We knew that a big and terrible fight was on at Chancellorsville, in which sons, husbands, brothers of many of the people present were engaged. Outside in the soft spring air, a tumult of war sounds continually distracted our thoughts and racked our nerves. The march—

Women's Secrets

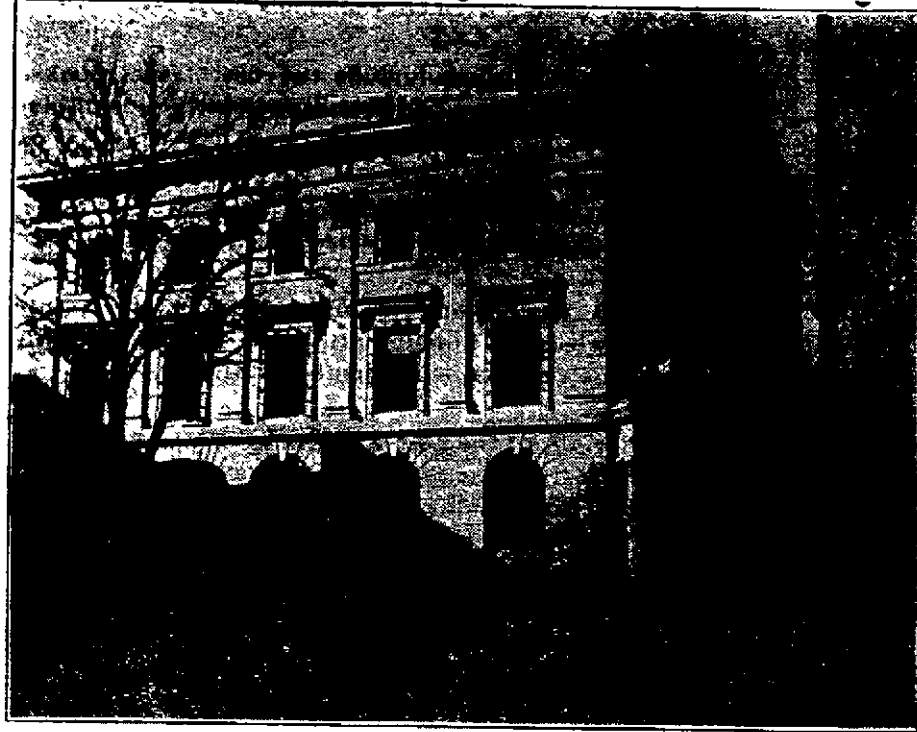

There is one man in the United States who has perhaps heard more women's secrets than any other man or woman in the country. These secrets are not secrets of guilt or shame, but the secrets of suffering, and they have been confided to Dr. R. V. Pierce in the hope and expectation of advice and help. That few of these women have been disappointed in their expectations is proved by the fact that ninety-eight per cent. of all women treated by Dr. Pierce have been absolutely and altogether cured. Such a record would be remarkable if the cases treated were numbered by hundreds only. But when that record applies to the treatment of more than half-a-million women, in a practice of over 40 years, it is phenomenal, and entitles Dr. Pierce to the gratitude accorded him by women, as the first of specialists in the treatment of women's diseases.

Every sick woman may consult Dr. Pierce by letter, absolutely without charge. All replies are mailed, sealed in perfectly plain envelopes, without any printing or advertising whatever, upon them. Write without fear as without fee, to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R. V. Pierce, Pres., Buffalo, N. Y.

RECORD YOUR DEEDS

By an Act of Assembly of 1898, "All Deeds and Conveyances shall be recorded within ninety days after their execution or shall be adjudged fraudulent and void against subsequent purchasers."

Also the Act of Assembly of 1909, prescribes a short form of Deeds, and "again requires the recording to make them valid."

It is also a great protection against loss or deed being burned by having them recorded, and costs but a small sum, compared to getting a new deed. Bring or send them into the Recorder's office, and in a few days they will be returned to you.

ing of armed men, the wheels of wagons containing shot and shell, the clash of iron gates in the Capitol Square opposite, went on without ceasing, while repeatedly messengers came up the aisle touching some kneeling or sitting worshiper on the shoulder, a summons responded to by an electric start, and the hurried departure of shocked pallid people from the church. These were the calls to come and receive some beloved one brought in dead or wounded from the field. To the rector of the church, Dr. Minnegerode, in the act of administering the sacrament with another clergyman, the sexton carried and delivered at the altar rails one of these dread messages, at once obeyed by the father, whose son was reported dead and awaiting him at the railway station. A great weight was lifted from the congregation when the rector, looking dreadfully shaken, but relieved, came back to resume his interrupted service. It was the corpse of another volunteer whom they had mistaken for his boy.

Nothing in the war, perhaps, excepting the surrender, ever struck Richmond with such stunning force as the announcement of Stonewall Jackson's fall, of the amputation of his arm, and finally of his death, following the battle of Chancellorsville. Even the brilliant victory of our arms was placed in total eclipse by this irreparable loss. From the first, when the shy Puritan professor of the Virginia Military Institute had started the armies by his extraordinary daring and military skill, Jackson had taken hold of the popular mind as a supreme favorite. "Old Stonewall," "Old Jack," or "Old Blue Light," was by the soldiers held in the reverence bestowed by Napoleon's grenadiers upon the person of their sacred emperor. With Lee and Jackson to the fore, quiet people sitting in their homes felt themselves as behind two massive towers of strength, facing and meeting every adverse wind.—From "Recollections, Grave and Gay," by Mrs. Burton Harrison, in the May "Scribner."

The A. B. C. of the Tariff Question.

Andrew Carnegie writing on "The A B C of the Tariff Question" in the "May Century Magazine," says: "The tariff will not down; on the contrary, it is to-day the foremost domestic question and promises to remain so through the next presidential campaign."

"There are two kinds of tariff, one for revenue, one for protection. In neither of these should food or the necessities of life be taxed. This is fundamental, whether the tariff be for revenue or protection."

"The government must have revenue, and because tariff duties can easily be collected upon articles of luxury imported, it is wise, very wise, to avail ourselves of this source of revenue, because the few rich who have the ability to pay should be made to pay heavily upon luxuries, which the masses do not consume."

"Encourage new industries when there is a prospect of finally getting thereby in due time a surer supply cheaper at home than the foreigner can give. If after proper patient testing it is clear that our domestic supply of any article cannot be obtained except at a higher price than the for-

Counterfeiter Gives Lessons in Engraving.

"Did I ever tell you about Charles Ulrich?" Burns asked. "Charles F. Ulrich was the greatest counterfeiter the world ever knew until the advent of Taylor and Bredet at Philadelphia. But Ulrich was, perhaps, the most versatile counterfeiter that ever operated. The government itself adopted his method of engraving a national bank note, and has used it ever since. Up to this time, the government had been engraving a complete plate for each bank. Ulrich engraved only one plate leaving out the title line; he then engraved separately the title lines of the different banks, and combined any one that he wished with the plate of the note. The government at once utilized Ulrich's ingenious device."

Ulrich came to this country from Germany in 1853. He was a raw young German then, but a real artist. When I knew him he was one of the finest-looking men I ever met—six feet tall, straight as an arrow, with long, curly hair. He was one of the pleasantest and most genial companions in the world, one of the most interesting fellows to talk with, on any subject—one of the best posted men I ever knew. He was a gentlemanly fellow, and his principal fault was that he was the best counterfeiter that ever lived.—From "Great Cases of Detective Burns" in the May "McClure's."

Elk Starving in Wyoming.

For many winters thousands of elk have starved in Jackson's Hole, Wyoming. The indifference of the State and National Government is the cause. Dillon Wallace writing in the May "Outing" discusses "The Tragedy of the Elk." Of their sufferings, he says:

"By the middle of January the elk ordinarily have the range eaten pretty clean, and are then compelled to turn to coarse sticks and bark, which in the case of grazing animals such as elk possess small food value. The bark is even eaten from fence-rails. By February first the elk have grown gaunt, and many of them have fallen into a starving condition; presently the weaker ones are seen lying down, unable to regain their feet. Thus they remain one, two and sometimes three or more days, until a merciful providence relieves their sufferings. Thenceforward this pitiful spectacle is constantly before the eyes of the settlers until spring thaws come and the famished creatures that have survived the period turn back again into the hills to regain strength and flesh in a season of plenty."

"When the starving period begins the ranchmen pitch tents or make bivouacs near their haystacks, and to save the hay for their cattle are compelled to sleep by the stacks during the severest months of winter. Some times even then desperate elk charge the stacks and get some of the hay. It is necessary for the ranchmen to guard and protect the hay for their domestic stock, else the stock would starve."

Horse Fair of the Haag Show.

Your visit to the mighty Haag shows at Gettysburg afternoon and evening May 17, will not be complete without a tour of the colossal canvas equerry, even though you are not a lover and admirer of blooded stock, it is claimed you will find an hour of genuine pleasure and much to interest you inspecting the droves of horses and ponies. For the last year agents have been in the different parts of the world making purchases for this department with a result that today that Mighty Haag shows possess one of the largest, most varied and costly collection of representative members of the equine family which wealth can procure, and it is doubtful if anywhere near the like has ever been exhibited before. Certainly never by any traveling shows.

Ladies and children are particularly invited to visit this horse fair, which will may safely do without escort, as uniformed and courteous attendants are always present, to look after the welfare of callers.

The Call of Mother Earth.

Time and again, when I have stepped from the train at my home station, after a trip to the city—no matter how good a time I may have had down town—I have stood still a moment to take a deep, deep breath. The air is so different. It seems quite new. The atmosphere of our city is unusually pure—up town—but it is different. In the first place, the air at home is always colder and keener, it has just that degree of added exhilaration that we find in spring-water after drinking from a faucet. In winter, I draw wraps closer about me; in summer I throw them open; but, winter or summer I draw a deep breath. And always the air is full of subtle odors, that are fragrances because of what they suggest. The suburbanite, so well as the countryman, knows and loves the smell of coming snow, of the wet earth after rain, of the pale faint blossoms of opening spring, the fresh cut grass, the smoke of burning leaves.—Juliet Everts Robb in May Suburban Life.

Agricultural Financial Needs.

In the May "National Magazine," Daniel G. Wing discusses "Some Phases of Proposed Financial Legislation," and among other things explains the many ways in which business is annually placed so as to result in unsettled conditions and as to the farming districts says, "In the great agricultural sections there is needed each fall to market the crops, between two hundred and three hundred million dollars of currency. There is no method under our present system of supplying this additional currency each year to the districts where it is needed or to contract it

Thus we see, each fall, shipments of currency from the eastern centers to the West and South, and after three or four months a gradual reshipment of this currency back to the centers again, involving loss of time and useless locking up of money while in transit, causing general business disturbance.

Catchy Songs of the Day.

The following are two of the catchy songs of the day, sold by S. A. Speck, 131 W. 41st St., New York City:

Williams and Van Alstyne, a very popular and prolific team of songwriters, never fail to have one or two big successes on the song market, and at present they have a novelty in the song line, a typical New York White Way song which is very popular in all the restaurants where "swelldom" dines after the theatre. The title of the song, "Who Are You With To-night?" seems to be the popular salutation as the guests arrive and greet those that they know. It is the old story told in a new way, and while the song has no moral to speak of, many a poor, deluded man and woman has been brought to reflect by the abrupt manner of the jocular questioner who seeks the information. Upon the stage the song has also proven a success, especially where the singer has been able to pick out some stranger in the audience, who was having a good time in New York. On one occasion a vaudeville singer had selected what in his opinion was an "easy mark." But to his mortification and to the delight of the audience the man got up and flourished a legal paper, got the lady also to stand up and introduced himself and her as Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Thomson, of Olean, Pa., just married and having a good time. He seemed delighted at the discomfort of the singer, and as the orchestra played the chorus he himself led the whole audience in singing—

Who are you with to-night, to-night?
Oh! who are you with to-night?
Who is the dreamy, peach and creamy vision of sweet delight?
Is it your little sister, Mister? Answer me, honor right—
Will you tell your wife in the morning Who you were with to-night?

To write the history of this country in song has always been the aim of Billy Jerome, and the satirical manner in which he sometimes brings certain events to the notice of his great following has brought favorable comment from some of the greatest men of the day. On the impulse of the moment he in connection with his musical associate, Jean Schwartz, has written and introduced to the public a song entitled "They're All Good American Names." The satire lies in the fact that neither Washington, Lincoln, Grant, McKinley, nor any of our heroes are mentioned. The first verse brings in the names of all the Irish Athletics, the second verse includes all the baseball players with Celtic names, and the third verse, really the hit of the song—refers to that great race which, during the past thirty years, has made such wonderful strides in every branch of business, in fine arts, and in all the professions. This verse will appeal to everybody that has ever been to New York and noticed the changes in the business section of old Broadway. When the song was first sung in New York it actually received such an amount of applause that one of the best vaudeville shows fairly came to a standstill.

Maggie Cline, the Celtic wonder, is making the hit of her life with this song, and it is worth going miles to hear her sing it. In order to give an idea of the satire of the song we quote the last verse and chorus:

I love to stroll along Broadway, and gaze at every sign,
The Yankee-doodle notion store is run by Rosenstern.
You'll find a good old Yankee name on every business house.
There's Rosenheimer, Jacobs, Wiener, Gimble, Sax and Strauss.

COURTS.

Abraham and Stine, Oppenheim and Kline;
Rosenberger and Levinsky, Harris, Cohen and Rosinsky;
Hammerstein and Guest, Stern and Rosenquest,
Simon, Hayman, Wyman, men of brains;
Levi, Wilsky, Berg and Falk, are the men who rule New York—
They're all good American names.

Property Sales.

A. C. Givler sold the Gelvin farm, in Huntington township to John Hays, Esq., of Carlisle, for $10,000.

Mrs. Curtis Hamme has bought the Samuel Baugher property with improvements, at the edge of East Berlin where the Hamme family have been residing the past few years, for $475.

Daniel A. Hinkle of Hamilton township, has purchased of J. W. Heagy a small property of 12 acres, with improvements, beyond Hampton, Reading township. Mr. Hinkle got immediate possession but Mr. Heagy will remain as tenant for at least another year.

The horse of Albert Hemler of Mt. Pleasant township ran off and fell between ties on bridge of Hanover and McSherrystown trolley over Plum Creek. By use of rope and plank the horse was released without injury. The buggy was wrecked.

Firemen's Relief Fund Grows.

The Relief Fund of the Gettysburg Steam Fire Engine Company has almost doubled by the proceeds of the Food Sale held by the Company and their friends at the Engine House on last Friday and Saturday evenings. The people of the town contributed liberally to the Food Sale and patronized it well. On Friday evening the Fire Company treated the town to a parade in full uniform and it was appreciated by a large crowd at the sale. The net proceeds of the Sale were about $240 and this will be added to the $300 recently set aside by the Company making a total of $540 that will be invested, the interest of which will be applied to the relief and care of any firemen who will be hurt in the discharge of his duties.

Debating Contest.

On last Friday evening the Johns Hopkins Debating team met the Gettysburg College team and the question "Resolved that the present distribution of powers between the federal and State governments should be revised in pursuance of a general policy of further Centralization" was upheld affirmatively by the home team composed of E. J. Bowman and C. M. Davis of the Senior class and negatively by the Johns Hopkins team. The Judges Dr. B. O. McIntire of Dickinson College; Prof. U. S. Steele of Harrisburg High School and Dr. W. D. Rorer, principal of the Harrisburg Academy, gave the decision to the Johns Hopkins team. This result ties the score in a triangular debating contest between Johns Hopkins, Washington and Lee and Gettysburg College, each team having won one and lost one, Gettysburg having won from Washington and Lee.

Wins $50 Prize.

S. Frank Snyder of Gettysburg College won first prize of Fifty dollars in the oratorical contest of the Intercollegiate Prohibition Association composed of leagues from eight Pennsylvania Colleges which took place in Annapolis last Friday. Jas. C. McConnell of Grove City College, Grove City won second prize of ten dollars. The contest was one of the best exhibitions of oratorical ability held at Lebanon Valley College, and was a close race between the first three speakers. The judges on literary merit and thought were Dr. Samuel Semple, Titusville, Pa.; W. H. S. Thomson, Pittsburg, Pa.; Rev. J. C. Day, Tyrone, Pa. The Judges of the Oratory and delivery were Hon. I. C. Williams, Royersford, Pa.; Dr. Jos. Lemberger, Lebanon, Pa.; Dr. Fluck, Myerstown. The following were the contesting orators: Susquehanna College, Sam.

S. Garnee; Gettysburg, S. Frank Snyder; Juniata, Wm. L. Judy; Albright, Roy M. Smith; Geneva, M. C. Mitchell; Grove City, Jas. McConnell; Lebanon Valley, Amos H. Weigle; and Rutgers, A. D. Campbell. Next Year's Oratorical contest and convention will be held at Geneva College, Beaver Falls, Pa.

MARRIAGES.

Romanus Florence, brother of the bride, was groomsmen. The bride was attired in a gown of white satin with train, wore a veil, and carried a handsome bouquet of white carnations. The bridesmaid was dressed in pink silk. A reception was held in the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Porter, of Bendersville, announce the wedding of their daughter, Hope E. Porter, to Arthur G. Radford, on Sunday morning, April 23 in Trinity Protestant church in Steelton. After a month's honeymoon at the bride's home and Osceola Mills they will reside on Chestnut street, Steelton, until August first. Then they intend going to Florida to make their future home.

L. M. Buehler's Success.

L. M. Buehler the enterprising drug gist rather than wait the ordinary methods of introduction, urged the Dr. Howard Co. to secure a quick sale for their celebrated specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia by offering the regular 50c bottle at half price.

The wonderful success of this plan was a great surprise even to L. M. Buehler and today there are scores of people here in Gettysburg who are using and praising this remarkable remedy.

In addition to selling a 50c bottle of Dr. Howard's specific for 25c L. M. Buehler has so much faith in the remedy that he will refund the money to anyone whom it does not cure.

When your head aches, your stomach does not digest food easily and naturally when there is constipation, specks before the eyes, tired feeling, giddiness, bad taste in the mouth, coated tongue, heart burn, sour stomach, roaring or ringing in the ears, melancholy and liver troubles Dr. Howard's specific will cure you.

Can You Get Hot Water When You Want It?

CAN you get hot water at the turn of the faucet when there are no fires in the house—without waiting, or without lighting any heating device?

Can you always get hot water, even though there has been an unusual call upon the supply by other members of the family?

Can you get all the hot water you want the first thing in the morning or late at night? If not, you are missing one of the modern conveniences easily available in every home.

This miracle worker, which will give you an unlimited supply of hot water at any time of day or night, is called the RUUD AUTOMATIC GAS WATER HEATER. It requires no attention. You do not have to light it or put it out—all you do is turn the faucet and hot water flows. The best idea of a RUUD may be had from an actual demonstration. Call at our salesrooms and see the RUUD in actual operation.

The RUUD AUTOMATIC GAS WATER HEATER is brought into the cellar and connected with the water and gas pipes. A tiny pilot light is lighted and that is the end as far as you are concerned.

When the hot water faucet is open, the pressure of water operates a valve which turns on the gas in the burner—turning off the faucet automatically puts out the gas.

For reasons of economy and to prevent the water from getting too hot a temperature regulator automatically turns down the gas every time the water reaches a certain temperature, and automatically turns it on as the water starts to cool. This is the most wonderful part of the RUUD—it allows only enough gas to be burned to keep the water hot, and only the water that is actually used is heated.

DEATHS.

MRS. HIRAN BAKER, died at her home in Franklin township on Thursday of last week aged about 45 years. Death was due to pneumonia, and is especially sad by reason of the death of her husband five days prior to her death leaving four little children Edna, Alice, Albert and Allen without father and mother. The interment was at Mt. Carmel Church.

JOHN BASEHOAR of Straban township met with sudden death on Sunday. He is superintendent of the Sunday School of the Reformed Church at New Chester and was in his place conducting the meeting on Sunday. Complaining of feeling unwell he walked out of the building to get a breath of fresh air and fell over. He was placed on a cot but before he reached his home had expired. He was about 65 years old. He enjoyed the respect of every one who knew him. The funeral will be held this Wednesday morning. He leaves besides his wife one daughter, Mrs. Oliver Myers of Hamilton township, and a step-son, Wm. Huff.

Dear Sirs:—I enclose $13.18 for Stock Food and Poultry Food which I got from you some time ago. I am very much pleased with your Stock Food and Poultry Food. My horses are in better shape and have more life in them; cows are milking better and don't drop down through the cold spells. are also in better condition; hogs and chickens are doing fine. Best I ever tried. Yours truly,

ANDREW KRAMER, Dairyman.

We often get letters from National Advertisers saying that Mrs. or Miss so and so has written them about the article advertised, giving them our name as their store. This has happened so frequently that we have gone through the advertising columns of the "Standard Designer," "Ladies' Home Journal," "New Ideas," &c., and we found the articles named below in our regular stock at all times, beside a great many more that are advertised in other Magazines and Journals. Keep this list, or what is better, take it for granted when you see an advertised article, if it has merit, we will likely have it, or else have a substitute that is better, at any rate, SEE US FIRST.
